

Abstract:

Rickets or osteomalasia is one of the common childhood disease that without treatment lead to sequel such as increase in respiratory infection... incidence , skeletal abnormality , convulsin , tetanus and hydrocephalus.

Attidadeto vit-D using from fifteen days of birth in all infants , ricketz has seen sometimes , and attitude to different clinical and laboratory and radiological finding in child with ricketz presenting of these sing prevalence is necessary , and if ricketz probability , because to easy treatment and dengarus seguele , switable treatment should be do.

Researching aids: major aid of this research is identification... of the cases with ricketz in patients under 2 years age that addmitioned in Ali Aaghar Hospital

(one of the ordabil meccical university hospital) during 6 months .

(from indentificatin ricketz patients and cilinical and Paraclinical Radiologicl evaluation is from.

Results : Ricketz in infauts that have no breast feeding had been cammon , so is common in infants had good weight gain and use vit-D irrigrularity .

Common clinical finding is sweating , wide fontanel and wide wrist , labaratory finding is normal caleium range,low phosphorus and high alkaline-phosphatase,

And the common Radiological finding is : Wrist Widening , Missed metaphgsal wedjc and oestoporesis.